Introduction

Why to complete? Accurate medical information enables childbearing ages women to take an informed decision regarding self protection against infectious diseases during pregnancy and for the future infant during the first couple months until she/he will be immunized according the National Vaccination Program.
Where will be used collected data? The questionnaire is intended for a doctoral research study. The results will be published in a scientific medical journal. Participants will have free access to the results of the study by request.
Data protection. The data collected in this questionnaire remain anonymous. Completion of the questionnaire is not mandatory. Withdrawal from the study at any time without any explanation is a personal option. Participation in the medical education program is free of charge. Completing the questionnaire represents your agreement to participate. The questionnaire completion signified your agreement to enter into the study. The survey complied with the Romanian legislation (Law 190/2018) and GDPR – the General Data Protection Regulation 679/2016. The study was approved by the Ethics Committee of the Academy of Medical Sciences, National Bioethics Commission of Medicines and Medical Devices, under the number 1SNi/21.02.2019

Socio-demographic data → Age, residence, educational level

Pregnancy follow-up → Gestational age Pregnancy type Conceiving type

Interest in participating to medical education program → Community-initiated educational parenting programs courses
Interested in participating in medical education program during pregnancy time

Infectious diseases risk perception gaps → Preferred forms of education

Medical education program → Preferred topics

Up to date on pertussis vaccination during 27-36 pregnancy weeks pregnancy

Vaccination of pregnant women during the period of 27-36 weeks of pregnancy allows to protect the pregnant woman from pertussis infection (whooping cough) and it allows to protect the future child in the first couple of months of life, up to the moment when she/ he will be vaccinated according to the National Vaccination Program

Personal attitudes regarding pertussis vaccine acceptance (VA) during pregnancy. → Opinion related to personal anti- pertussis vaccination during pregnancy

Interest for future educational programs' → Agreement to receiving informative materials by e-mail connected to the main theme of the present medical education program