

Figure S2. Cluster analysis using neighbour joining (similarity index: Bray-Curtis) were performed using PAST 3.17. Numbers at nodes indicate bootstrap support (1000 replicates, only values >50 are shown). The different female clusters are named after the position of double-bonds of the main CHCs. The symbols next to the sample IDs were used also in Figure S1 to distinguish between the different sampling sites.