

Figure S2. Comparison of the GC content of prophages and their hosts. The GC content showed weak correlation (Spearman's coefficient) and the regression models poorly explained the observed data (low R-squared values).