

Table S2. The reasons to select the following databases.

Database	Reasons to select
Medline	<ul style="list-style-type: none">• MEDLINE covers areas of health professionals and allied health.• 28 million references to journal articles.• Records are indexed in Medical Subject Headings (MeSH).• One can search by title and abstract.• It includes literature in Spanish, Portuguese, and English.
Embase	<ul style="list-style-type: none">• Embase is a biomedical database.• 3,500 international journals• Bibliographic records with citations, abstracts and indexing derived from biomedical articles in peer reviewed journals, including public health.• Records are indexed in Elsevier Life Science thesaurus Emtree.• One can search by title and abstract.• Approximately a million records are added yearly. Updated every week.• It includes literature in Spanish, Portuguese, and English.

Education Resources Information Center(ERIC)	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> ERIC is an education database. The database includes records for a variety of source types, including journal articles, books, conference papers, curriculum guides, dissertations and policy papers. ERIC provides unlimited access to more than 1.6 million bibliographic records and links to nearly 750,000 full-text documents. Hundreds of new records added monthly.
Biblioteca Virtual en Salud [Virtual Health Library]	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> It is hosted by Pan American Health Organization/ World Health Organization. Records are indexed in Descriptores en Ciencias de la Salud (DeCS) and MeSH. It includes literature in Spanish, Portuguese and English. Collection of educational resources and distance learning courses registered in the Virtual Campus for Public Health (CVSP) and other platforms.
Health Information from Latin America and the Caribbean Countries (LILACS): LILACS	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> LILACS focuses on Health literature in 26 countries. LILACS includes 915 journals. LILACS includes systematic reviews, integrative reviews, overviews, technical reports, conferences, thesis and dissertations. It includes literature in Spanish, Portuguese and English.

Google scholar

- It includes articles, theses, books, abstracts, and court opinions, from academic publishers, professional societies, online repositories, universities and other web sites.
 - It includes literature in Spanish, Portuguese, and English.
-