Message from the Guest Editors

Dear Colleagues,

Advancements in medical imaging have revolutionized the field of hepatocellular imaging, contributing significantly to the diagnosis, prognosis, and treatment evaluation of hepatocellular carcinoma (HCC). This Special Issue will explore the latest emerging and evolving concepts in hepatocellular imaging, highlighting their implications for clinical practice. From innovative diagnostic techniques to novel methods for assessing the treatment response, this Special Issue will cover a broad spectrum of topics that encompass the multidimensional landscape of HCC management.

Cancers is an international online journal addressing both clinical and basic science issues related to cancer research. The journal is publishing in Open Access format, which will certainly evolve to ensure that the journal takes full advantage of the rapidly changing world of information and knowledge dissemination. It publishes high-quality clinical, translational, and basic science research on cancer prevention, initiation, progression, and treatment, as well as other related topics, particularly to capture the most seminal studies in the rapidly growing area of immunology, immunotherapy, and tumor microenvironment.

Author Benefits

Open Access: free for readers, with article processing charges (APC) paid by authors or their institutions.

High Visibility: indexed within Scopus, SCIE (Web of Science), PubMed, PMC, Embase, CAPlus / SciFinder, and other databases.

Journal Rank: JCR - Q2 (Oncology) / CiteScore - Q1 (Oncology)
