Dear Colleagues,

I am pleased to announce the winner of the Catalysts 2019 Travel Award, which is given to one outstanding postdoctoral fellow or non-fellow postdoctoral trainee.

2019 CATALYSTS TRAVEL AWARD

WINNER

Juan Vicente Alegre Requena, a Postdoctoral Fellow in Robert Paton's research group at Colorado State University, has been selected as the winner from a pool of 65 applicants. Juan's research focuses on the use of computational chemistry to elucidate the reaction mechanisms of diverse catalytic and organic synthetic processes. Juan will be attending the 257th American Chemical Society (ACS) National Meeting in Orlando, Florida.

Congratulations to Juan and thanks to all who applied.
