Message from the Guest Editors

We are considering, organizing, and proposing you this Special Issue on Physiology of Telocytes as a step forward in clarifying and attesting the roles of Telocytes, and bring evidence of their distinct physiology in relation with their peculiar microscopic morphology. Here, we are encouraging publishing new data on Telocytes that could help in elucidating their functionality into the living interstitium, or could help clarify their definitive roles either in lesion progression, or in tissue homeostasis.

We are looking forward to receiving your manuscripts.

Message from the Editorial Board

Cells has become a solid international scientific journal that is now indexed on SCIE and in other databases. We have successfully introduced a special issues format so that these issues serve as mini-forums in specific areas of cell science. Cells encourages researchers to suggest new special issues, serve as special issues editors, and volunteer to be reviewers. Our main focus will remain on cell anatomy and physiology, the structure and function of organelles, cell adhesion and motility, and the regulation of intracellular signaling, growth, differentiation, and aging. We are open to both original research papers and reviews.

Author Benefits

Open Access: free for readers, with article processing charges \(APC\) paid by authors or their institutions.

High Visibility: indexed within Scopus, SCIE \(Web of Science\), PubMed, MEDLINE, PMC, CAPus / SciFinder, and other databases.

Journal Rank: JCR - Q2 (Cell Biology) / CiteScore - Q1 (General Biochemistry, Genetics and Molecular Biology)
