Message from the Guest Editors

Dear Colleagues,

The COVID-19 pandemic has generated an explosion of interest in the vaccination topic. Four years after patient zero, it is time to integrate the evidence that has emerged on the complex phenomenon of vaccination. The Special Issue aims to identify and model the factors that promote and inhibit vaccination (not only related to COVID-19) in a multidisciplinary way, including social, psychological, educational, health and experiential factors (e.g., contagion, development of long COVID syndrome).
