Message from the Guest Editors

The topics of this Special Issue include but are not limited to the durability and mechanical properties of sustainable HPFRCCs and FRPs containing recycled and waste-based materials, HPFRCCs and FRPs that are manufactured with different types of fibers (including recycled and natural fibers), HPFRCCs and FRPs containing nanomaterials and the long-term properties of HPFRCCs and FRPs, life-cycle assessment of sustainable HPFRCCs and FRPs, and applications of sustainable FRPs. Both original contributions and reviews are welcome.

Message from the Editor-in-Chief

Fibers is intended as an integrative platform, bringing together specialists with expertise concerning a large range of biological, synthetic, metallic and mineral fibers. The intent is to bring together scientists who would otherwise be unlikely to encounter each other's findings. By facilitating communication across specialties, the journal will advance understanding of the underlying commonality of many physical and chemical aspects of fibers.

We welcome submission of manuscripts from a diverse range of disciplines relating to many types of fibers utilizing a variety of research approaches.
