

fishes

Dear Colleagues,

On behalf of the Evaluation Committee, it is our pleasure to announce that the winner of the 2019 Fishes Travel Award is Mr. Daniel Coffey.

2019 FISHES TRAVEL AWARD WINNER

Mr. Daniel Coffey is currently a Ph.D. student at the University of Hawaii, USA. His research is broadly focused on understanding how marine predators utilize and move through their environment and investigating what mechanisms drive this behavior, such as physiological constraints induced by the environment. On behalf of Fishes, he will be awarded 800 Swiss Francs to attend the 2019 International Conference on Fish Telemetry (ICFT), which will be held 24–28 June 2019 in Arendal, Norway. There, he will present his work on “Assessing the Performance and Habitat Suitability of a Vertically Migrating Deepwater Shark in a Changing Climate”.

Congratulations to Mr. Daniel Coffey. We are grateful to all applicants.

Prof. Dr. María Angeles Esteban (Editor in Chief)

Prof Dr. Helmut Segner (Associated Editor in Chief)