Message from the Collection Editors

Dear Colleagues,

This Special Issue of Hemato is dedicated to recent advances in hematology, hematopathology, cellular biology, immunology, and molecular biology research areas and comprises a diverse selection of exclusive papers of the Editorial Board Members (EBMs) of Hemato. It focuses on highlighting recent interesting investigations conducted in the laboratories or clinics of our journal's EBMs and represents our journal as an attractive open-access publishing platform for hematology-related research data.
