This Special Issue aims to discuss new knowledge or new cutting-edge developments in the children’s health research field through selected works, which will make a great contribution to the community.

Papers could be either research papers with a detailed summary of their own work done so far, or papers highlighting the state-of-the-art developments in one of the areas covered by the Section “Children’s Health”. Contributions to this important Special Issue will be accepted by invitation only.

You are welcome to send a tentative title and a short abstract to our Editorial Office (ijerph@mdpi.com) for evaluation before submission. Please note that selected full papers will still be subjected to a thorough and rigorous peer-review.
