Message from the Guest Editors

Dear Colleagues,

This Special Issue is a continuation of our previous Special Issue on “Vegetable Genetics and Genomics”.

In the past decade, the rapid development of sequencing technologies has promoted great advances in the genetics and genomics of vegetable crops. This Special Issue on “Vegetable Genetics and Genomics” welcomes the submission of review and original research papers or short communications on the following topics: vegetable genome, comparative genome, and variome research; genetic dissections of important horticultural breeding target traits; quality and tolerance to biotic or abiotic stress; and discoveries of new key genes and their molecular regulation mechanisms for valuable traits or metabolic pathways through the advanced technologies of molecular genetics and multiple omics.

Message from the Editor-in-Chief

The International Journal of Molecular Sciences (IJMS, ISSN 1422-0067) is an open access journal, which was established in 2000. The journal aims to provide a forum for scholarly research on a range of topics, including biochemistry, molecular and cell biology, molecular biophysics, molecular medicine, and all aspects of molecular research in chemistry. IJMS publishes both original research and review articles, and regularly publishes special issues to highlight advances at the cutting edge of research. We invite you to read recent articles published in IJMS and consider publishing your next paper with us.

Author Benefits

Open Access: free for readers, with article processing charges (APC) paid by authors or their institutions.

High Visibility: indexed within Scopus, SCIE (Web of Science), PubMed, PMC, MEDLINE, Embase, CAPlus / SciFinder, and other databases.

Journal Rank: JCR - Q1 (Biochemistry & Molecular Biology) / CiteScore - Q1 (Inorganic Chemistry)
