Message from the Guest Editor

We invite investigators who are active in the field to submit original research papers as well as review articles to this Special Issue, to highlight the realization and the use of molecular and nano-systems for antimicrobial photo-treatments, to provide new insights into the fundamental mechanisms of microbial photo-inactivation or to propose stimulating ideas and novel applications to expand the use of the methodology. Scientific contributions are expected to provide molecular-level information about the systems and/or the processes under study. The issue will focus on, but will not be limited to, the following aspects:

- Fundamental mechanisms of PDI, PTT or UV light-based antimicrobial treatments;
- New photo-activated materials, including molecules and nanomaterials;
- New formulations of existing photo-activated agents;
- Targeted photo-treatments against bacteria and viruses;
- Photo-treatments exploiting endogenous molecules;
- Visualization of functional photo-activated agents in situ with advanced microscopy;
- Combination treatments with, e.g., antibiotics or antibodies;
- Photo-activated molecular systems for industrial and large-scale applications.

The International Journal of Molecular Sciences (IJMS, ISSN 1422-0067) is an open access journal, which was established in 2000. The journal aims to provide a forum for scholarly research on a range of topics, including biochemistry, molecular and cell biology, molecular biophysics, molecular medicine, and all aspects of molecular research in chemistry. IJMS publishes both original research and review articles, and regularly publishes special issues to highlight advances at the cutting edge of research. We invite you to read recent articles published in IJMS and consider publishing your next paper with us.

Author Benefits

Open Access: free for readers, with article processing charges (APC) paid by authors or their institutions.

High Visibility: indexed within Scopus, SCIE (Web of Science), PubMed, PMC, MEDLINE, Embase, CAPlus / SciFinder, and other databases.

Journal Rank: JCR - Q1 (Biochemistry & Molecular Biology) / CiteScore - Q1 (Inorganic Chemistry)
