

Dear Colleagues,

As the Editor-in-Chief of Journal of Clinical Medicine, I am pleased to announce the winner of the 2018 Travel Award sponsored by our journal.

Dr. Anja Kafka, a post-doctoral fellow and a research assistant at the Laboratory of Neuro-oncology at Croatian Institute for Brain Research, School of Medicine University of Zagreb, Croatia, carries out research to determine the involvement of molecular components of Wnt signaling in the process of brain tumorigenesis.

From the applications received, it is obvious that there was a large pool of highly qualified candidates that deserve this award. Given the fact that only one award was available, it was not a simple task to select the winner this year. In the election process, an experienced committee closely examined the applicants' submitted documents, and ranked them based on strong research productivity and performance merit. From the outcome of this exercise, Dr. Anja Kafka was ranked by two out of three committee members as the winner of this year's award. Please join me in congratulating Dr. Anja Kafka for a well-deserved prize (800 Swiss Francs).

Editor-in-Chief
Prof. Dr. Jane Grant-Kels
