Message from the Guest Editors

Dear Colleagues,

This Special Issue on "Advancements in Radiotherapy: Navigating 2024 and Beyond" is dedicated to exploring innovations in radiotherapy, emphasizing the evolving landscape of cancer treatment. Our focus is on comprehensive research articles that delve into the latest technological advancements, treatment strategies, and future directions in the field. However, please note that for this Special Issue, we regretfully cannot consider submissions of case studies or mini-reviews. We encourage original research contributions, clinical trials, and in-depth analyses that contribute significantly to the understanding and application of innovative radiotherapy approaches in cancer care.
