Message from the Guest Editor

Dear Colleagues,

The cardiotoxicity of anti-cancer immunotherapies poses a major clinical challenge. To address the unanswered questions regarding immune-mediated myocarditis, a Special Issue is being published. The aim is to provide a comprehensive review of the research status, core problems, and scope of the issue. This Special Issue covers the diagnostic approach, management, and monitoring of immune-mediated myocarditis. Experts in the field will present the latest research on the pathophysiological mechanisms of immune-mediated myocarditis, as well as treatment strategies and monitoring techniques. Overall, this Special Issue mobilizes research efforts to provide a deeper understanding of immune-mediated myocarditis and contribute to improving patient outcomes.

Keywords:

Message from the Editorial Board

There has been an explosion of gene and target based research and therapeutics in the multitude of fields that compose clinical medicine. The Journal of Clinical Medicine's (JCM) staff and editorial board are dedicated to providing cutting edge, timely, and peer-reviewed articles covering the diverse subspecialties of clinical medicine. The journal publishes concise, innovative, and exciting research articles as well as clinically significant articles and reviews that are pertinent to the myriad of disciplines within medicine. The articles published are relevant to both primary care physicians and specialists. The journal's full-texts are archived in PubMed Central and indexed in PubMed. Please consider submitting your manuscripts for publication to our journal and check us out on-line!
