

Emotional Intelligence and Creativity

Guest Editors:

Prof. Dr. Franck Zenasni

Laboratoire de Psychologie et
d'Ergonomie Appliquées,
Université de Paris, Paris, France

Dr. Macarena-Paz Celume

Laboratoire de Psychologie et
d'Ergonomie Appliquées,
Université de Paris, Paris, France

Deadline for manuscript
submissions:

closed (15 October 2022)

Message from the Guest Editors

We would like to propose a Special Issue that gathers original studies, reviews, and theoretical papers presenting papers that should ideally combine both the main concepts (creativity and emotional intelligence) or related conceptions (emotional creativity and socioemotional skills). With this broad scope, we are looking for submissions that address one or more of the following topics, among others:

- The development of creativity and emotional intelligence through training and programs in adults or children (please specify in your submission);
- Combined evaluation of both creativity and emotional intelligence/emotional competence;
- Influences of emotional intelligence on creativity or vice versa.

If your paper does not address any of the proposed categories but you believe it is aligned with the main concepts we propose in this Special Issue, please feel free to submit your manuscript.

