Message from the Guest Editors

Dear Colleagues,

The amount of recent research and advances in otorhinolaryngology is high, and therefore, the authors present in this Special Issue recent advances and current treatment options in the field.

The purpose of this Special Issue is to describe recent advances in otorhinolaryngology, including new diagnostic technological resources and surgical modalities. A resource such as this will be a very useful addition to the otolaryngologist's basic literary armamentarium, as it highlights advances in areas to guide further study. For this reason, we ask that you send in your most recent research on diagnosis and therapy.

Trusting in your participation, we send you my best regards.
