Message from the Guest Editors

This Special Issue, entitled "Boundary Element Methods in Engineering", focuses on the latest developments in engineering analysis with boundary elements, mesh reduction, and other related innovative and emerging numerical methods. Mathematics was originally focused on the development of the boundary element method. Its scope has since been expanded to include the emerging mesh reduction and meshless methods. The aim of Mathematics is to promote the use of non-traditional, innovative, and emerging computational methods for the analyses of modern engineering problems.

Deadline for manuscript
submissions:

28 February 2025

Message from the Editor-in-Chief

The journal Mathematics publishes high-quality, refereed papers that treat both pure and applied mathematics. The journal highlights articles devoted to the mathematical treatment of questions arising in physics, chemistry, biology, statistics, finance, computer science, engineering and sociology, particularly those that stress analytical/algebraic aspects and novel problems and their solutions. One of the missions of the journal is to serve mathematicians and scientists through the prompt publication of significant advances in any branch of science and technology, and to provide a forum for the discussion of new scientific developments.

Author Benefits

Open Access: free for readers, with article processing charges (APC) paid by authors or their institutions.

High Visibility: indexed within Scopus, SCIE (Web of Science), RePEc, and other databases.

Journal Rank: JCR - Q1 (Mathematics) / CiteScore - Q1 (General Mathematics)
