

Dear Colleagues,

As Editor-in-Chief of Metabolites, I am pleased to announce the winner of the 2017 Metabolites Travel Award on behalf of the Evaluation Committee:

KATIE HILLYER, Postdoc fellow at the Victoria University of Wellington, whose research seeks to understand the role of metabolism and free metabolite pools in organism function during exposure to cellular stress. She is planning to present her work “Mapping carbon fate during coral bleaching: the application of ^{13}C metabolomics” at the Metabolomics 2017 (June 25 – 29, Brisbane, Australia). The award consists of 800 Swiss Francs towards attending this conference.

It was a difficult decision with such high quality applications for the award and we thank all applicants. We wish to congratulate Dr. Katie Hillyer for her accomplishments.

A/Prof. Peter J Meikle,
Editor-in-Chief

2017 TRAVEL AWARD WINNER

Metabolites (ISSN 2218-1989) is an open access journal of metabolism and metabolomics, published quarterly online by MDPI. Please find more information on Metabolites here: <http://www.mdpi.com/journal/metabolites>.

Metabolites is a sponsor of the 2017 Metabolomics Conference (June 25–29, Australia, <http://metabolomics2017.org/sponsors/sponsors-list>) and will have a booth in the conference. You are most welcome to visit our booth (BOOTH # 12) and learn more about Metabolites! More information can be found via Twitter: @MetabolitesMDPI.
