

metals

Dear Colleagues,

Anonymous peer-reviewing guarantees the quality and integrity of scholarly communication. However, the Metals editorial team is extremely grateful to our reviewers for their time, energy, professionalism, and commitment. In order to acknowledge our reviewers and the time they so generously give to ensure high-quality publications in Metals, the editorial team has dedicated an award to reviewers in gratitude for their exceptional dedication in reviewing manuscripts for Metals.

The following reviewers have been selected by the Editor-in-Chief and Editorial Office of Metals to receive the “Metals Outstanding Reviewers 2019” awards for the quantity, timeliness, and quality of their reviews in 2019.

2019 OUTSTANDING REVIEWER AWARDS

WINNERS

Dr. Antonio Riveiro

Applied Physics Department, School of Engineering, University of Vigo, Lagoas Marcosende s/n, 36310 Vigo, Pontevedra, Spain

Prof. Francisco J. G. Silva

ISEP–School of Engineering, Polytechnic Institute of Porto, 4249-015 Porto, Portugal

Dr. Javier Aldazabal

University of Navarra, Spain

Prof. Jose Diaz

Energy Department, University of Oviedo. c/ Wifredo Ricart, 33204 Gijón, Spain

Dr. Maciej Motyka

Department of Materials Science/R&D Laboratory for Aerospace Materials, Rzeszow University of Technology, Rzeszow, Poland

Each winner will receive 300 Swiss Francs, a 50% discount for next publication in Metals, and an electronic certificate.