Message from the Guest Editors

Dear Colleagues,

Today, bioactive compounds from nature continue to benefit mankind in various fields, including pharmaceutical, nutraceutical, pesticide, and cosmetic. Many naturally-derived secondary metabolites with therapeutic potential have immense potential in the research pipeline for their application as functional foods, therapeutic and cosmetic agents for the benefit of mankind. Their consumption has been correlated to the prevention and treatment of different diseases and to the promotion of good health. In this Special Issue, we would like to emphasize the high value of natural products, which can be used for the development of health and food supplements and as potential cosmeceutical applications. We kindly invite you to contribute an excellent paper to the SI. You are welcome to visit the website and submit your paper here.

If you have any questions, please feel free to contact Cecilia Li (cecilia.li@mdpi.com), the managing editor from Molecules editorial office.

Message from the Editor-in-Chief

As the premier open access journal dedicated to experimental organic chemistry, and now in its 25th year of publication, the papers published in Molecules span from classical synthetic methodology to natural product isolation and characterization, as well as physicochemical studies and the applications of these molecules as pharmaceuticals, catalysts and novel materials. Pushing the boundaries of the discipline, we invite papers on multidisciplinary topics bridging biochemistry, biophysics and materials science, as well as timely reviews and topical issues on cutting edge fields in all these areas.
