

pharmaceutics

We are pleased to announce the two winners of the Pharmaceutics Travel Awards 2019:

Dr. Settimio Pacelli is a postdoctoral researcher in Biomedical Engineering at the University of Kansas, USA. His research focuses on the development of biocompatible hydrogels for drug delivery in bone tissue engineering.

Mr. João Pedro Martins is a PhD student at the University of Helsinki, Finland. His PhD research is focused on the transport of nanoparticles across the intestinal microenvironment and, thereby, helping to make the oral delivery of antidiabetic drugs a reality.

2019 PHARMACEUTICS TRAVEL AWARDS WINNERS

Each Travel Award consists of a certificate and 800 CHF for the recipient to attend an academic conference of their choice in 2019. Congratulations to the winners of this highly competitive travel award.

We would like to thank all the Scientific Committee members for their assiduous evaluation of the candidates, and all the applicants for submitting their fascinating research on a diverse range of topics.

The 2020 Pharmaceutics Travel Awards will be open for applications at the beginning of 2020. Please check <https://www.mdpi.com/journal/pharmaceutics/awards> for more information closer to that time.
