

remote sensing

Dear Colleagues,

We are pleased to announce the winners of the “Remote Sensing 2020 Best Cover Awards”. The winners of the “Remote Sensing 2020 Best Cover Awards”, in no particular order, will receive CHF 100 each. The winners are as follows:

Issue 1 (January 1, 2020)

Exploring the Potential of C-Band SAR in Contributing to Burn Severity Mapping in Tropical Savanna (doi:10.3390/rs12010049)

Issue 12 (June 2, 2020)

The 2019 Eruption Dynamics and Morphology at Ebeko Volcano Monitored by Unoccupied Aircraft Systems (UAS) and Field Stations (doi:10.3390/rs12121961)

Issue 7 (April 1, 2020)

How Can Remote Sensing Help Monitor Tropical Moist Forest Degradation?—A Systematic Review (doi:10.3390/rs12071087)

Issue 18 (September 2, 2020)

Interdisciplinary Teaching Using Satellite Images as a Way to Introduce Remote Sensing in Secondary School (doi:10.3390/rs12182868)

Issue 14 (July 2, 2020)

Effect of Lockdown Measures on Atmospheric Nitrogen Dioxide during SARS-CoV-2 in Spain (doi:10.3390/rs12142210)

2020 BEST COVER AWARD WINNERS

Congratulations to the winners for their excellent research!

We selected 10 participants, who will receive a CHF 50 voucher each.

Juan José Moyano Campos, Stefan Adriaensen, Pedro Cabral, Marta Yebra, Torok Ibolya, Nick van de Giesen, Javier Litago, Alberto Pellegrinelli, Antoine Denis, Radek Malinowski.

Thanks everyone for your participation.