Message from the Guest Editors

Dear Colleagues,

We are pleased to announce that the Fault Diagnosis & Sensors section is now compiling a collection of papers submitted by the scholars in this research field for an upcoming Special Issue, entitled Feature Papers in Fault Diagnosis & Sensors Section 2023.

This issue will engage in topics such as fault detection and diagnosis, fault/failure prognosis, structural health monitoring, condition monitoring, intelligent sensors and sensor networks for fault diagnosis, digital twins for fault diagnosis, modelling, pattern recognition, machine learning, artificial intelligence and data analytics for fault diagnosis, failure prognosis and NDT, etc.

The purpose of this Special Issue is to publish a set of papers that typifies the best, most insightful and influential original articles or comprehensive review papers. We are eager to publish papers which are widely read and highly influential within the field. We would also like to take this opportunity to call on more excellent scholars to join Fault Diagnosis & Sensors in order to we can achieve additional milestones together.

Message from the Editor-in-Chief

Sensors is a leading journal devoted to fast publication of the latest achievements of technological developments and scientific research in the huge area of physical, chemical and biochemical sensors, including remote sensing and sensor networks. Both experimental and theoretical papers are published, including all aspects of sensor design, technology, proof of concept and application. Sensors organizes Special Issues devoted to specific sensing areas and applications each year.
