Message from the Guest Editors

Dear Colleagues,

Water and climate change are closely linked. To tackle the water and climate crisis, the water sector must adapt to the impacts of climate change on water resources. Extreme weather events are increasing water scarcity, decreasing its quality, and making its availability more unpredictable. These impacts threaten sustainable development, biodiversity, and people's access to water and sanitation. The special issue welcomes submissions on new advances towards climate-resilient water management, including but not limited to the following:

- Assessment of the impact of structural and non-structural actions to mitigate floods;
- Implementation of green and blue infrastructures;
- Protecting natural buffers;
- Harvesting rainwater;
- Reusing wastewater;
- Research on vulnerability and resilience;
- Water–energy nexus;
- Water governance must be put at the heart of action plans;
- ...

Message from the Editor-in-Chief

I encourage you to contribute a research or comprehensive review article for consideration for publication in Sustainability, an international Open Access journal which provides an advanced forum for research findings in areas related to sustainability and sustainable development. Sustainability publishes original research articles, review articles and communications. I am confident you will find the journal contributes to enhancing understanding of sustainability and fostering initiatives and applications of sustainability-based measures and activities.

Author Benefits

Open Access: free for readers, with article processing charges (APC) paid by authors or their institutions.

High Visibility: indexed within Scopus, SCIE and SSCI (Web of Science), GEOBASE, GeoRef, Inspec, AGRIS, RePEc, CAPlus / SciFinder, and other databases.

Journal Rank: JCR - Q2 (Environmental Studies) / CiteScore - Q1 (Geography, Planning and Development)
