Message from the Guest Editors

Dear Colleagues,

The special issue welcomes original researches contributing the challenge of energy/emission mitigation technologies. The papers published in this special issue are mainly focused on the applied energy mitigation systems and provide state-of-the-art approaches for zero-emission plans.

Review articles are welcome but they must be critical in approach and provide particularly novel and far reaching insights. Papers must contribute substantially to the advancement of knowledge. Research areas may include (but not limited to) the following:

- Energy transition methodologies,
- Energy conversion techniques to address zero-emission scenarios,
- Sustainable production methods,
- Renewable technologies to be adopted in real-world industrial operations,
- Novel methodologies in energy and carbon accounting and benchmarking in industry,
- Life Cycle Assessment (LCA) of renewable systems,
- Future energy sources and their economic and environmental impacts.

I/We look forward to receiving your contributions.
