Message from the Guest Editors

Dear Colleagues,

The energy sector has seen serious transformation worldwide owing to economic, technological and environmental development. These changes have occurred worldwide, yet different regions have faced different types of objectives, policies and barriers. Therefore, there is a need for understanding the effects of energy policies across different regions of the world and thereby ensure the spill-over of best practices. On the other hand, support models are needed to set the reasonable targets for energy policies.

This special issue of Sustainability, with the theme Sustainable Energy Economics and Policy, aims to publish research or review articles covered with Sustainable Energy Production and Use Across the Regions; Sustainable Energy Policy; Theoretical Developments in Energy Planning; Sustainable and Renewable Energy Technologies and so on.
