Message from the Guest Editor

Dear Colleagues,

Since its inception around 1960, the laser has found myriad applications in science, engineering, and medicine. The use of lasers in metrology includes the precise measurement of distance, velocity, acceleration, torque, strain, surface finish, and shape. For more than 50 years, the unique properties of laser radiation (i.e., coherence, narrow wavelength, low beam divergence and high intensity) have made lasers ideal for accurate and repeatable non-contact measurement. This special issue aims to publish new research and novel applications in all types of laser metrology and precision measurement. It is my pleasure to encourage both theoretical and empirical papers in this ever-expanding and exciting discipline.

Message from the Editor-in-Chief

Technologies, provides a single focus for reporting on developments of all technologies, regardless of their application. It is our intention that Technologies becomes the journal of choice for both researchers wanting to publish their work and technologists wishing to exploit the high quality research across a wide range of potential applications. Through its open access policy, its quick publication cycle, Technologies will facilitate the rapid uptake and development of the research presented, ultimately providing benefit to the wider society.

Author Benefits

Open Access: free for readers, with article processing charges (APC) paid by authors or their institutions.

High Visibility: indexed within ESCI (Web of Science), Scopus, Inspec, INSPIRE, and other databases.

Journal Rank: CiteScore - Q1 (Computer Science (miscellaneous))
